

The Sacred Tree at the Center of the World, Colin Lambert, 2009

Located at the Shannon Community Center, this is a large wall panel relief made of acrylic modeling paste. It depicts a mature Valley Oak Tree in a grassy foreground with imbedded text expressing the indigenous native Californian's understanding of community. Colin Lambert, who died in 2015, was known for sculpture that is figurative, representational, classical and decorative. He had a studio in Valley Ford, Western Sonoma.